

WE NOMINATE

Harold Willis Dodds, President Emeritus of Princeton University, a Princetonian for four decades, and one of the Western World's most respected spokesmen in the field of higher education, who once again — and at a time New Jersey appears to be willing at long last to face up to its educational responsibilities — has returned to “the firing-line.” The 76-year old Dodds, eight years after statutory retirement, has accepted the chairmanship of the Citizens for the Mercer County Community College, a non-political group concerned with strengthening understanding of the importance of a community college in an area increasingly dominated by the “industry of research and development.”

With the decision to establish a county community college resting entirely with the electorate, Dodds and his associates in the crowded weeks ahead will conduct an educational campaign so that voters will be aware of the purpose, scope, cost and programs of study of the proposed college before they go to the polls on November 2d. The recommendation that the county should undertake the establishment and construction of a 2-year college was made well over a year ago by a committee of able county residents, most of whom feel “it would be a tragic thing for Mercer if the opportunity for such an institution were lost through apathy and disinterest.”

The son of a noted Presbyterian minister and teacher, and at his induction in 1933 the youngest Princeton President in 175 years, the Pennsylvania-born Dodds in a quarter-century translated into hard fact many of the visions Woodrow Wilson had etched for Princeton in the early 1900's. Dodds' stress on individual excellence (as opposed to growth in numbers), his concern for solid intellectual achievement and his steady leadership through two wars catapulted Princeton into the front rank of American universities and, also, laid the groundwork for the Princeton Community's near-incredible, and continuing, development as one of the nation's research hubs.

A single four-year span, 1949-1955, what one observer called “The Fifth Quadrennium” of the Dodds regime, was indicative of his accomplishments. The University developed the 825-acre James Forrestal Research Center, possibly its most far-reaching step since Wilson in 1905-06 revamped the faculty and curriculum; the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Program (now the continent-wide Wilson National Fellowship Foundation) moved into the national educational picture; the Wilson School of Public Affairs acquired its first permanent home; and the Council of the Humanities, this fall completing its exhaustive analysis of American scholarship in the humanities, became a reality.

Dodds, founding head of the Board of Trustees of The Princeton Day Schools, Inc., and long associated with The Hun School, has insisted time and again that “the academic is improved by contact with practice.” Described in the 1930's as “the best known North American in Central and South America” in recognition of his services to governmental commissions, he anticipated his retirement from Nassau Hall by undertaking a searching study of the office of the college and university presidency, a three-year project capped in 1962 by the publication of an “educational classic,” “The Academic President — Educator or Caretaker?”

For emphasizing that leadership is the most important ingredient in democracy and that it is from American education that the continual flow of leadership must come; for his devotion to the community, county and state he has served so effectively; for giving new meaning to “The Spirit of 76”; he is our nominee as

QUESTIONS ON MERGER
Cost? Curriculum? As referendum day (October 7) on school merger draws closer, certain questions seem to stand out beyond others in the minds of Princeton voters.

TOWN TOPICS, which endorses school merger as the best way to provide the best education for all of Princeton's children at the most reasonable cost, this week presents answers to some of these questions.

Does the Township really intend to pull out of the high school if merger is voted down, or is this just a threat? And suppose it did?

"We are not satisfied with the status quo but with a situation in which we have no voice in the education of Township high school youngsters," says George Grace, president of the Township Board of Education. "If merger is voted down, we have no alternative but to plan our own high school."

At the school board's request, the Township Planning Board has suggested half a dozen possible sites for a high school. The Board has appropriated money to hire a specialist if merger is defeated.

Merger & Best. "I am quite concerned about the future of Princeton secondary schools were the Township withdrawn," says E. Alden Dunham, Director of Admissions at Princeton University. "I am quite convinced that the best interests of education in both Borough and Township mean merger. Any other action, or lack of action, would seem to me very unwise."

"In my opinion," Mr. Dunham continues, "the comprehensive nature of Princeton High School would be lost without merger. A comprehensive high school means enrollment of a cross-section of all youth in a community. In Princeton, to divide Borough and Township artificially would be to contradict this principle. Also, a comprehensive high school means the provision of a wide variety of elective programs to meet the needs of the students. I see distinct advantages in merger in terms of providing adequate elective programs of both academic and vocational nature for the Princeton community."

What about costs? "In the first place," Mr. Grace points out, "the New Jersey State Department of Education has approved the reorganization plan. It would not have approved it if regionalization meant heavier burden on the Borough than on the Township."

GEORGE GRACE: Financial expert in private life, Township school board member in public life, Mr. Grace stands by the "Blue Book" figures but that no significant cost changes for either Borough or Township in the event of merger.

With Township pupils gone from the high school, the Borough immediately loses half a million dollars a year; an immediate increase of 15 tax points. Even if other sending districts grow, the Borough taxpayer will still have to pay about six more tax points each year than he pays today. And other expenses are just around the corner.

The John Witherspoon School is new, but the high school is decidedly not. Improvements in the high school's physical plant, the library and physical education departments, to name just two examples) will be required as the building ages.

Will the sending districts want to stay in the high school when their tuition jumps from $712 to $1,031 per pupil to make up for loss of the Township? It is by no means certain that the Borough can keep the sending districts as these areas grow.

Without the Township, high school classes will be smaller, therefore more expensive, and some special classes may be lost. There is a disproportionately large number of Township students in advanced placement English, advanced fourth-year language, advanced math and calculus. Could the Borough afford to have a calculus class with only two students?

As Mr. Grace reminds, the paying formula has been worked out so that taxes WON'T be affected.

"We've assumed that nobody will have to do any more building (though of course the high school will need physical repair)," Mr. Grace says, "but let's assume that even our highest population expectations are low. Let's suppose that we'd had a merged system in the years 1962-64 when the Township built Community Park, the wing on Riverside and the Little Brook Library."

"Even during that period, when we were building for 900 more kids, the Borough's tax rate would have gone up on 1/10, one or two points, if it had regionalization."

Mr. Grace, who is a banker by profession, added, "I just can't see how the Borough's tax rate could possibly be affected..."

We do a big business in antiseptics, bandages, and other first-aid items. Same everywhere, probably. But sometimes we wonder if people don't depend too much on first aid—neglect proper medical attention. If there's the slightest question in your mind following what appears to be minor injuries, see your physician. First aid has definite limitations. ### Many Features in Current 60-Page Issue

TOWN TOPICS' traditional "Why I Plan to Vote" feature has been adapted this week (page 41) to permit both sides to express their opinions on the proposed merger of Princeton public schools. Writing in support of the October 7 referendum is Mrs. Esther H. Roberts, a former member of the Borough Board of Education, while the opposition's viewpoint is set forth by Stuart Carewells, an assistant director of the Office of Research Administration at Princeton University.

Other viewpoints are expressed in the well-filled Mailbox (pages 34-39). Detailed evaluations of the Princeton High and Princeton University football teams' progress are in the sports section (pages 40-53), while other pages reflect the arrival of the fall season in art, music and the theatre.

The current 60-page issue includes more display and classified advertising than TOWN TOPICS has published at any time other than the Christmas season. Not all of the advertising submitted for publication could be accepted.

Invite Merger Discussion
 At 8 p.m. this Thursday in the all-purpose room of Community Park School, the Township School Board will talk about merger with anyone who cares to ask questions.
 Borough and Township residents alike are invited to attend and pose their questions to board members.
 The regular business of the board will be completed first, so the public question-session may not actually begin until about 8:30.

This Is Princeton
 There is also the cost involved if the Borough has to strengthen its junior high program all alone. And in this area, the Borough would be completely alone, without any sending districts to help.
 IF YOU LIKE TOWN TOPICS, the best way to express your opinion is to mention it to our advertisers.

Is it really true that the Borough's junior high program needs strengthening?
 The new John Witherspoon School will be a splendid school with the latest in school facilities, but there will still be only 200 junior-high age Borough children. There are 450 junior-high children in the Township.
 "Put together our 200 junior high students with the 450 at Valley Road and this automatically means you have more class sections and can have more opportunities to get youngsters into the proper section," comments Chester H. Stroup, Borough superintendent of Schools.
 The time has long since passed when a child could receive a good academic education in the 7th and 8th grades in a classroom where the same teacher teaches all subjects."

Dr. Stroup says that I.Q.'s range from 80 to 160 in the Borough's junior high. "We cannot put all these children in the same group without serious compromises on both ends."

Mrs. Paul Strayer, Borough Board member, agrees. "If we had more pupils, we could assign each child to a class according to his abilities. If he were good in arithmetic but slow in English, we could assign him accordingly. But we can't afford the money to hire enough teachers to do this with only 200 boys and girls."

The Borough's junior high has only one art teacher, and she is part-time. The rest of the time, she is at the high school. Both Borough junior high music teachers are part-time. Both gym teachers are part-time. There is one full-time and one part-time French teacher, and one part-time Latin teacher.

"We need sufficient staff with specialization and enough students to make possible more depth and breadth," Dr. Stroup continues. "For 7th and 8th grades, we need one more English teacher, two more history teachers, two more math teachers and one more each in science and French. For experienced teachers today, the salary would be $8,650. This means $60,500 a year in salary alone. This is high cost, and it is the little my who gets hurt on this. There would be many people in the Borough who couldn't cope with the additional tax burden if the Borough alone had to pay for this."

Borough parents are understandably proud of their fine school system. Many of them, naturally enough, know little about the Township system. They may not know that it, too, is one of the finest public school systems in the country.

● The average Township student scores nationally in the top quarter of the well-known "Iowa" tests. At the high school, 35% of Township 12th graders are in the top quarter of the class, (27% of Borough students, 18.4% of sending district students.)

● The Township has four full-time librarians and about 20,000 library books for its 5 schools. It is in the second year of a three-year library.

NEW BOROUGH HALL

"Soon." "A new Borough Hall must be built, and reasonably soon," observed Mayor Henry S. Patterson Tuesday night as he watched Borough Council approve the legal agreement giving the Miss Fine School building to the Borough.

Tuesday's agreement is the latest step in an arrangement whereby the Borough gets Miss Fine's and Princeton Seminary gets Borough Hall. But Miss Fine's, now abandoned, its students ready to move to their new Princeton Day Schools campus, is a doomed building. All of it except the gymnasium will be torn down to make way for a new Borough Hall.

"We went through that building from basement to attic," said Councilman William H. Walker, "We" meaning Mr. Walker, Councilmen Joseph Strayer and Enoch Durbin; architects Henry Jandi and Richard J. Chorlton and Borough department heads. The verdict: the building cannot be remodeled; it must be razed.

Mr. Walker added that a detailed survey had been made and estimates obtained from two contractors on remodeling, but the verdict was still "no."

To Use Gym. Mayor Patterson said at his Tuesday press conference that it would be October or November before Council would have an ordinance appropriating money to build a new Borough Hall. The Borough has about 18 months before it must exit from its present antiquated quarters.

So far, Mr. Jandi and Mr. Chorlton have prepared only schematic drawings of a possible new Borough Hall. The present Miss Fine's gym will be used, as now, for dances and community functions and probably for well-populated public hearings like the one on housing for the elderly, for example.

The new building will probably be built as close to Stockton Street as possible, with a walkway connecting it to the gym. Presumably it would be designed with an architecture and stance that would harmonize with "Morven" and the Battle Monument. It will be so arranged that police, engineer, office and gym entrances will be separate and out of each other's way.

Because the Dilley Report had suggested certain new areas of merger with the Township, Councilman Ellwood Goyer asked about a possible Township share in this new building.

Mayor Patterson replied that a Joint Board of Health might indeed have its offices in the new Borough building, and Mr. Walker said the architects had been told to keep an "expandable building" in mind. Mr. Durbin went a step further and suggested that both Borough and Township governments might share a building, even so lawyers do. Council decided it was "worth study."

Acts on Dilley Recommendation. With the Dilley report less than a week, Council took its first action on a Dilley recommendation and introduced an ordinance adopting the National Building Code, 1953 edition. This is the one used by the Township. Public hearing October 12.

The Borough has finally received a formal court order directing Mayor and Council to grant a variance to Charles LaPlace so that he can build 40 apartments on his three-acre Harrison Street land. The Borough, which decided in July to appeal, now has 45 days to act on that decision.

"I protest," Tim registering a mild complaint, began John Redding, 234 Nassau Street, as he informed Council once again of his unhappiness about the new parking restrictions on Nassau Street near his store. Joining him were the owners of the Royal Scarlet store, the N.E.A.T. delicatessen and University Radio and Electric.

His "mild complaint" precipitated a discussion that touched upon:

● The question of whether Council has any "moral obligation" to taxpayers business-

ness. ● The Borough's stake in the Township's proposed loop road as a release valve for Nassau traffic pressure.

● Princeton's fussiness about "little things" when a metropolis of 2½ million people lies just around the next generation.

● Mayor Patterson's disillusionment with the business community, and...

● "Whatever happened about Jackson Street?"

The last question came from Benjamin Kahn, 46 Wigwag. Mayor Patterson told him that half a dozen meetings on Jackson had been held during the summer and that, while problems still existed, the Borough is closer to a solution than it has been in some time.

"Would you, Mr. Redding, and your neighbors, join us in hunting for an off-street parking lot?" asked Mr. Godfrey.

When nobody on Council would make the necessary motion to go back to the state highway department and ask for a change, Mr. Redding said, "All right, let's give it six months' trial," and Mayor Patterson promised a re-consideration at the end of that time.

"Let Him Who is Without Sin..." Albert E. Hinds, 229 John, protested that, although every property-owner in his neighborhood had repaired sidewalks according to Borough directives, the Borough itself had neglected its own walk around the John Street playground. Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley said harshly that the Borough would do it within the month, and Mr. Walker added that maybe the Borough ought to fix its own walks before it sent out orders to property-owners to fix theirs.

Council passed a resolution praising former Juvenile Referee Howard Stepp and his long and faithful public service as Juvenile Referee and Referee. The resolution commended him for the "highest kind of human understanding and judicial discretion, which he never failed to demonstrate." Mr. Stepp served for 17 years before a recent change in court regulations eliminated his office.

The first time in the October 7 school referendum. It will also mail a single sheet digest on the referendum to Borough voters 10 days before the polls open.

At last week's meeting, Board Secretary William H. Rhodes was authorized to rent five voting machines from the County Board of Elections and to find sufficiently trained personnel to man the polls.

The cost, he told the board, "will be $3 per machine, plus $30 drainage fee per machine, plus a mechanic from the election board who is paid $4.05 an hour and will be on duty for 8 hours."

We will have to have an attendant at each machine," he said, "working up to a judge and a secretary at each polling place, and nine clerk - tellers, one for each district. They must be paid not more than $10 each for this service, and they will be on duty for 7 hours."

"We are required to use people who have served in a general election or who have had instruction in the use of voting machines. This is where I am experiencing some difficulty in recruiting."

With $10 maximum pay, Mr. Rhodes anticipates that some certified poll workers will not find it economic to take time off from the regular jobs. "Others are housewives, and our hours will be 1 p.m. to 9 p.m., longer than the usual school election."

When the costs are tallied, including the printing of voting authorities, the stabs, military ballots and absentee ballots, as well as advertising, the machines will cost about $400 compared to $250 for paper ballots.

There will be two machines in the Nassau School auditorium, two in the gym and one at Witherspoon School. The tallies will be combined by Mr. Rhodes on election night. We should know the results by 9:30."

Digest. The one-page digest will be written by School Superintendent Chester Stroup, with Attorney William Miller "doing the financial part," the Board decided. The Board of election's addressograph plates will be borrowed, with the school board paying a member of the election board staff to address the mailing.

John W. Kauffman, Administrator of Princeton Hospital, has been elected to a three-year term on the by-laws committee of the American College of Hospital Administrators, a professional society of some 7,000 men in his position serving in the United States and Canada. Administrator at Princeton Hospital since 1946, Mr. Kauffman is a past president of the New Jersey Hospital Association and of the Middle Atlantic Hospital Assembly. His home is at 65 Hollingshead.

Mr. Kauffman said, "from promoting a cause. This is an analysis of the referendum and the issues involved. Everything in it has to be approved by counsel and by the state. An election can be thrown out by taxpayer's suit."

BOOK SALESMAN HELD By Russia. In Murmansk, Newcomb Mott, a salesman in the college department of D. Van Nostrand Company, Inc., has been detained in Murmansk, Russia, after he reportedly crossed the border Saturday, September 4, at Kirkenes, Norway, a village ten miles from the Arctic Circle. He left his hotel there for a sightseeing trip.

Gunnar Haaraad, police chief of Kirkenes, said Soviet border police confirmed Mr. Mott's arrest but refused to give any further information. His father, Howard Mott of Sheffield, Mass., learned of his son's whereabouts this Tuesday, when the State Department informed him that a U.S. Embassy officer from Moscow had seen his son in Murmansk.

The Embassy was originally rebuffed in its inquiry about

Mr. Mott. There is no consular agreement between the United States and Russia, and under the existing arrangement, Russia is not obligated to inform this country about the detention of American citizens.

Mr. and Mrs. Mott had planned to fly to London last Friday to implement the search for their son but decided against it. The trip had been scheduled previously by Mr. Mott, a rare book dealer who travels abroad regularly. The couple had also planned to meet their son in London at the end of his vacation after Labor Day.

Newcomb Mott had been in Europe since the middle of July on vacation. He is 27 years old and has been employed by Van Nostrand for almost three years. His sales territory includes New York State (except New York City), western Pennsylvania and West Virginia. He is due at a sales meeting in Princeton this Sunday.

FATHER OF FOUR DROWNED in Carnegie Lake. A Trenton father of four drowned

Thursday evening in Carnegie Lake when an aluminum rowboat in which he was fishing capsized. The victim was reportedly within 15 feet of the shore when last seen.

The body of Laurell Berry, 45, 436 Pennington Avenue, Trenton, was recovered about 8 p.m. by 18 members of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad working with boats. Saved were two companions, Hardy Sypher, 34, and Theodore Addison, 34, both of Trenton.

The two men told State Police that the boat capsized between 7 and 7:30 when Mr. Berry stood up, causing the 12-foot boat to go over and throwing the three of them in the water. At the time they were about 200 feet from the shore.

Mr. Sypher and Mr. Addison said that they grabbed the boat and saved themselves by paddling toward shore. Two youths heard Mr. Sypher's cries for help and when the boat was within range they threw out a line, pulling it in near the vicinity of St. Joseph's Seminary on the upper lake.

SAFE STOLEN

Yield $68,000 in Securities. Thieves who stole a safe containing some $68,000 in securities from a Pennington home early this month may have to settle for a good workout for their labors. Stockbrokers have told police assigned the case that it will be virtually impossible for the burglars to dispose of the securities.

The safe was taken from the home of Mrs. Helen L. Winkler, 1 Park Avenue, Pennington. In addition to the securities, it held $500 in U.S. Savings Bonds and jewelry worth $5000. Mrs. Winkler, widow of Dr. Albert F. Winkler, a dentist was away at the time of the theft.

State Trooper Stephen Roschke reported he was told that the thieves, in order to sell the securities, would first have to forge Mrs. Winkler's signature to the stocks and then convince a broker she had authorized the sale. A broker said it was unlikely this could be accomplished.

Brokers in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey have been alerted and asked to watch for the missing stocks. A stop-payment order has been issued on the savings bonds and the FBI notified.

In an attempt to find the safe, police sent skin divers down to search the waters of an old abandoned quarry in —Continued on Page 8

PURSE SNATCHED

From 88-Year-Old Woman. A purse containing about $10 was snatched from the arm of an 88-year-old Borough resident at noon last Wednesday as she was walking on Wiggins Street near Jefferson Road. Police declined to reveal her identity.

According to police, the woman told them she had just turned onto Jefferson Road when a man ran up behind her and grabbed her purse. He then ran across the street where an accomplice was waiting in an old car and the two sped away. Police added the victim was unable to give a good description of the car or the two men.

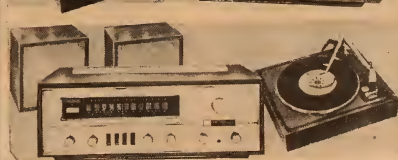

Three days later, the empty purse was found in the Township by two boys who returned it to its owner.

FRESHMEN ARRIVE
At Old Nassau, Princeton University's class of 1969 were told Monday by President Robert F. Goheen their first few weeks at Princeton might be a "disturbing experience."

MUSIC In Princeton

SYMPHONY SUSPENDED
To Support Chamber Group
The Princeton Symphony Orchestra has been indefinitely suspended.

The board of the symphony orchestra will throw its "wholehearted support" to the Princeton Chamber Orchestra, which will give three concerts in Princeton during the coming season.

The Princeton Chamber Orchestra, composed of professional musicians, presented about 40 concerts in its first season last year and received high praise from both the public and the press.

The board is confirmed in its belief that this professional group of musicians will develop into the finest chamber orchestra in the country," said the statement suspending the Symphony's "suspension."

In a sense, the Princeton Symphony is a casualty of the growth of the community. Founded 14 years ago with unpaid amateurs and some professionals, the orchestra has become more and more, but still not completely, professional.

Correction
The telephone number of The American Express Travel Service, Princeton Office, was inadvertently omitted in last week's advertisement. It is 921-8600.

Beauty ON THE SQUARE

By Archibald (Bernard)

Do you want to know how to have a healthy shine to your hair? Is it always so dull and dry? Keep in mind that what you eat affects not only your general health, but also your hair's health.

Unhealthy hair won't shine. Make a point of having a well-rounded, well-balanced diet. Also, make it a point to get oil and protein treatments whenever your hair needs it. You can receive fine hair care preparations that are designed to correct problems of the hair and scalp at TAYLORWOOD BEAUTY MANOR, 69 Palmer Square West, 924-3983. Remember—properly conditioned hair never loses its shine.

Recorders to Meet

Recorder players who would like to join the Princeton Chapter of the American Recorder Society are invited to a meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, September 22, at the home of Mrs. E. W. Lehmann, 34 Knoll Drive.

Players who would like to affiliate but cannot attend should call Mrs. Warren Welsh, 328 Dods Lane.

Because it has not been wholly professional, it has had some difficulty playing contemporary compositions and yet a primary objective of the group has been the performance of works by Princeton composers.

A disproportionate amount of limited rehearsal time has had to be given to these compositions, even then without achieving the polish which ought to be there," the board admitted. "It must be said . . . that this has been a very expensive goal to achieve, even partially."

Expensive also because contemporary music by Princeton composers is not big-league. In an explanatory letter, filled with regret and yet with hope for the future, the Board says that chamber compositions by Princeton composers will be played and played professionally, but that the musical merits of the composition rather than the address of the composer, will decide whether it should be played.

"We believe that the Chamber Orchestra can do many things better and at less expense, and many things that were beyond the capabilities of the Symphony Orchestra. . . . With the Chamber Orchestra there is no need to revive the second-rate composition because the first-rate has been played to death by the major orchestras; a different and beautiful literature lies before their fingers."

PLAY AN INSTRUMENT?

Join Community Orchestra. Amateur musicians who like to read Beethoven, Mozart or Bart are invited — especially if they play strings, French horn or trombones — to consider the Princeton Community Orchestra.

The group will begin its first full season in October, under the direction of Joseph Kovacs. The group was formed in January by a group of Princeton musicians, and it is supported solely by membership dues. Anyone interested in joining should call Mrs. E. W. Lehmann, 34 Knoll Drive, 921-6184.

HALLOWEEN AHEAD!

Party for Children. A real party with a costume parade, entertainment, refreshments, prizes for the best costumes—the works—has been outlined for Princeton by R. Donald Barr, recreation director for the community.

Halloween is on Sunday this year, and Mr. Barr told the Joint Recreation Board Monday night that he would like to have the children's party on Saturday ("mischief" night).

"After the party," he said with a perfectly straight face, "we would have a 'Goblin Call' game for the children. You race right home and if you're there when your phone rings, you get a $10. It encourages them to go home. . . ."

"Also our summer teen dance was very successful that we're going to continue it this fall, and we'd like to have one of the teen dances that same Saturday night, October 30. It might eliminate some 'mischief night' problems."

Mr. Barr also plans a poster contest through the schools for grades four-eight, with posters displayed in store windows and prizes.

"How about money for these Halloween ideas?" asked Mrs. Richard Schoch, Recreation Board member.

Mr. Barr said planning time was actually more vital, and that he didn't believe money would be much of a problem. He suggested that Princeton's merchants and service organizations might be willing, or even eager, to lend sponsorship.

"Our summer teen dance program was very successful with no problems," Mr. Barr told the Board. "We had six dances, with an average attendance of 200, and 375 at the last one of the season. As for crashing — well, we had a snow fence around the high school area and school gym teachers on hand who knew the kids and could identify them. A few kids asked if they could come in even though they didn't go to Princeton High or live in Princeton, but they asked, 'they didn't crash. We just explained politely that we couldn't admit them.'"

For this fall, Mr. Barr is considering a junior high program on Saturday afternoons, starting in November after football season is over. This would be chiefly a games program.

Saturday morning arts and crafts, long a feature of life for Township children, will be expanded to include Borough boys and girls in the elementary schools, Mr. Barr said.

Borough Councilmen, Township Committeemen and the Recreation Board will meet in executive session next Thursday to talk about money for the new swimming-pool complex. The Board has asked both governing bodies to appropriate money for the pools, and details about financing will be discussed Thursday.

May Break Pool Ground. "We still hope for a ground-breaking this fall," said Mr. Barr. The Board is now in the process of selecting the firm that will do the actual designing.

Other Recreation business:
• 300 children participated in the swimming program this summer (cost: $660) and 57 of them received Red Cross life saving awards.

• It cost the Board $789 in water to start the new grass in Community Park.

• The Hospital Fete will again be held in Community Gardens, but so much in the way of tennis courts, sodaballs, diamonds and swimming pools will have been installed by June that the Board isn't exactly sure just which area will be turned over to the Fete.

BONSAI ON VIEW
Bryd Fund Will Gain. The Japanese garden and bousai of Mrs. Polly Fairman, 103 Mount Lucas Road, will be open this Saturday and Sunday from noon to 5 p.m. The rain dates are Saturday and Sunday, September 25 and 26.

ALBERT VENTA HONORED
For Saving U. S. Mail. Quick action on the part of Albert Venta, 505 Ewing Street, a mail carrier employed at the Princeton Post Office, has been rewarded by Fire Chief Patrick McManimon. When the mail truck he was driving caught fire, Mr. Venta saved its entire contents at the risk of personal injury. Chief McManimon gave Mr. Venta a Superior Accomplishment Award, for service beyond the call of duty. The presentation was made on the recommendation of Acting Postmaster John L. Dilworth.

The incident occurred on the Princeton-Kingston Road, where Mr. Venta was making deliveries in the truck when it caught fire. Lifting the

Cast to "Dial M"
Joan Jemman Grigg, daughter of George Kennan, and a former Community Player now returned to the fold, will play Margot Wordeley in "Dial M for Murder," scheduled for Friday and Saturday, October 8, 9 and 10. "Margot" is the part played by Grace Kelly in the "Dial M" movie.

Mike Bosworth will be her husband, Tony, and Nick Muller will be Max Halliday. Ayden Umur, who was an outstanding success in "The Hostage" last spring, will be Inspector Hubbard and Morris Kagoda will be Captain Legate. Mr. Bosworth is a Princeton graduate student from England, a Cambridge man just like Tony. Mr. Muller is a past-president of the players and present treasurer. Mr. Yagoda is a brand, brand new member. Shirley Kauffman will direct. Meredith Hase will be production manager and Joan Brannick stage manager.

This line-up answers a frequent question put to Players members: "What do you do if McCarter doesn't do?" The answer, of course, is that Community Players gives amateur actors a chance to perform in Brecht, amateur directors a chance to learn technique in one-act plays, amateur producers a chance to expand their imaginative power.

Van Cilburn will make his first Princeton appearance on December 5. Tickets for both are now on sale.

SIGN UP NOW

For Repertory Series, Season tickets for the Fall Drama Series at McCarter Theatre are now on sale at the McCarter Theatre box office.

Friday, October 8, is the opening night of the fall series: "Mother Courage," by Bertolt Brecht in the Eric Bentley translation.

The Classic Film Series will begin with Oliver's "The Emancipator" on October 5, continuing with "All About Eve," "The Country Girl" with Grace Kelly and Bing Crosby, "The Band Wagon" with Fred Astaire, "Sunset Boulevard" with Gloria Swanson.

Part two of the Classic Series will present "Gold Diggers," "Top Hat," "An American in Paris," "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers," and "High Society."

In its international series, McCarter will show, on October 12, "Purple Noon," followed by "Saturday Night and Sunday Morning," "Hiroshima, Mon Amour," "Room at the Top," "Shoot the Piano Player," "A Taste of Honey," "Grand Illusion" and "The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner."

Subscriptions to each of the two series are now on sale at the McCarter box office.

COME ON, BOYS
Ballet Has New Angle. Boys and young men will find a course especially designed for them in the fall curriculum of the Princeton Ballet Society.

Andre Baty, director of the Society, announced a new course with an athletic approach to dance, training boys and young men in gymnastic disciplines and dance rhythms.

"American dance is a virile dance form growing out of our wide-open spaces, country dancing and folk and square-dance patterns," she said. "In place terms, it has been pioneered by such ballets as Billy the Kid and the dance language of choreographers."

IT'S NEW To Us

FRESH-BAKED

Warm and Yeasty, Warm, freshly-baked, close-textured bread, a pie-knee-deep in apples, a party cake too pretty to eat — well, you know the homey pleasures of a good bakery as well as we do. The newest bakery in town, opening Friday, is Hanscom's Philadelphia, on Palmer Square down toward the Playhouse, in the same square footage that used to be occupied by another bakery.

Five kinds of apple pie, for a start. There's French apple with its raisins and cherries and its bit of vanilla frosting on top; grilled apple, in which the apples, cinnamon and butter are browned on a pan in the oven before they are spooned into the crust for baking (firmer texture with apple pieces); lattice-covered apple; deep-dish apple; apple custard, like coconut custard (which the weather gets cooler) and just plain good old-fashioned apple pie.

We'll take one of each. A la mode.

And of course, there's bread, Hanscom's being a bakery. We'll start with unsalted old-fashioned white and continue with the plain rye and the Jewish rye made with sourdough. For your next tea-party, there's the 100% raisin in which Hanscom uses 100 pounds of raisins to every 100 pounds of flour, and try a slice of that one, toasted with melted butter!

Farm bread is next, with honey instead of sugar and a high percentage of butter, milk bread with milk as wetting agent instead of water, and, long, thin Italian bread for cocktail snacks and whole wheat for nourishing school lunches.

After you've made those nourishing whole wheat sandwiches and sent them off to school, invite a neighbor in for coffee and Philadelphia cinnamon sticky buns. The neighbor will never go home, sifter a treat like that.

Danish twisted coffee cakes might be an alternate, but when you invite us, serve the brandywine coffee cake. And if you think "Brandywine" is just a pleasant name-tag, like "Mount Vernon," let us set you straight: this is coffee cake with both brandy and wine, so you'd better make the

Variety for Variety

When's the last time you saw tripe in a meat market? Gourmet cookbooks like to remind us that the variety meats — tripe, brains, sweetbreads, heart — have been used over the years by the finest French chefs for their most imaginative and delicious inventions.

So, why not a tripe stew for dinner? Tripe is available, along with other off-beat meat and game, at the Food Mart on Witherspoon where it is kept just for you in the freezer.

Rabbit — there's another good stew for a fall dinner — pheasant, guinea hen are all in that Food Mart locker. A lot less trouble than a hunting license.

coffee but and strong.

Pumpkin pie is here, of course, and a splendid southern pecan. The grilled cherry pie has lattice strips on top and a sprinkle of coarse sugar on top of that.

Decorated cakes are made to special order in three days: $3.80 for a three-pound cake out on up from there. But if you've forgotten an important birthday, Hanscom will have on hand spur-of-the-moment decorated cakes to hide your embarrassment.

Heath-baked rolls (baked crust) complete with soft rolls right on the oven shelf, instead of in a pan, for a crisp including the brown and serve kind. How about the cheese brown and serve, with Imperial cheddar all blended in?

But bakery goodies are only part of Hanscom's offerings. The shop on Palmer Square also has potato salad, omelette, green salads and even sopes for you to take home. Caserolles like macaroni and cheese or potatoes au gratin are ready to be sold right off the shelves. If you want a large quantity — five-pounds or more — you're eligible for the quantity price.

Hanscom's own chocolates, in one-pound boxes, and hard candies in tins, will tempt you before you leave. The shop is self-service, with the shelves and counters available to your pleasure.

THE PRINCE

Shreanndash (now through Tuesday) is a big, colorful Civil War picture with its chief asset a masterful performance by James Stewart in the lead role.

Stewart, a widower, lives with his six sons and a daughter in Virginia, trying to remain neutral in the conflict that rages around him. He craves attempts by the South to draft his boys, even though they want to join and by the North to buy his animals. However, the family is soon immersed in tragedies brought about by both sides.

The idea that the war is hell and the innocent suffer the most has been recounted countless times for every conflict in history, but this film has done a more tasteful and convincing job than most.

THE PLAYHOUSE

Billie (now through Tuesday) brings Patty Duke out of her weekly television series to star in this adaptation of the Broadway success, "Time Out for Ginger." It's aimed at the teenage set, and most of that age group should enjoy it.

The story follows Billie who at first acts like a tomboy but eventually grows up to be a young lady. Jim Backus fills in as her father, and Warren Beatty provides the romantic interest.

THE GARDEN

The Howard (now through Tuesday) stars Max von Sydow, Yvette Mimieux, Efrem Zimbalist Jr. and Emilio Fernandez. No information available.

anticipated each year by both the avant-garde fashion seeker and the classicist.

At first, with "Paul Klee," a plain poncho with gold slacks and an unexpected royal-turtle-neck, and the inevitable Corregio in charcoal and white with those white boots. It seemed as though they had forgotten everything over the age of 18.

But middle-aged customers in their twenties and thirties were well served by Villager's happy "Mural in dirty white and wild cherry," where a herringbone skirt matched a wild cherry jumper, and a wild cherry jumper was wild indeed worn with a plain cap and socks, but could be substituted if worn alone. "Wild cherry," by the way, is not at all what you think it is: the shade is gentle and heathery, lively but not neon-bright.

Black piped boundstooth fashioned into a shirt had a cut-away orange jacket, easy and fitted, and nice for Princeton ladies to wear.

The most dramatic knits were the black and white art pull-overs, with great blocks of black and white or concrete squares of plain red in a flatland of black. Wear one over black slacks.

show came for "Showers of Glitter," especially for the simplest shift you ever saw, in grey flannel interwoven with silver lines, and for a loose overblouse of shimmering silver grey worn with black pants streaked up the sides with silver.

Another grey, with quite a different feeling, was the grey made ensemble with Australian opossum trimming its flared and fitted coat. The black suede theatre suit and severe white blouse deserved, and got, a spotlight all its own.

"Ohhhhhhh" from the Macy audience got elicited on a reversible cape with camel on the outside and white on the inside, worn over a dazzling white shift, impressive because of its chalk-line simplicity.

When you looked at the dusty tape ensemble, you saw a rim of shaggy hair around the edge of the coat, but when the model removed her coat, you saw that the beaver was around the hem of the dress instead. Surprise! all around.

One of the best coats, a late-comer not listed on the fashion show program, was a tweed great - coat in oatmeal lined with baby fox and trimmed with the most enveloping shawl collar that ever dared a winter wind.

Daytime dresses of "Goya red" or "Rembrandt velvet" and lace on grey and a pink and orange "Gauguin" robe for the houndie founded out the "Artistry in Fashion" theme.

Simple settings, like the rectangles in varying heights and planes, fresh ideas like a row of colored umbrellas and the imaginative but restrained use of color, made the fashion show a pleasure to the eye quite apart from its interest for women who enjoy clothes.

WHAT'S A BOOT?

Safeties. The soft and the flexible are the favorites this fall at Brophy's, where even the toughest men's boots bend with suppleness and ease. Let's show you first the Bannister, a light-weight, hand-sewn loafer with kitten flap and cashmere grain. If you wish, you may have it with a tassel instead of the kitten.

A demi-boot, higher in the vamp than a loafer and just a slither or two higher on the side, is quite as flexible as the loafer and comes, like the loafer, in a dashing red and black plaid shoe bag.

Brophy's Chukka boot in burnt ivory is harschide, leather lined all the way and tough as an anvil with its three-eyelids closed by leather thong laces. It approaches the ankle-bone in height.

A dress shoe with a feeling for ease is the Leaflex in fine grain black calf. In between, you'll find a cordovan slip-on which is dressier than a loafer but more casual than a dress shoe.

For the first time in many years, Brophy has a brown saddle shoe in smooth grain with a saddle of smooth cordovan. Its leather-lined all the way to the toe.

Girls, yes, girls! — who anticipate a cold winter will buy Brophy's imported boot that looks like sealskin but is really nylon, and is lined with what looks like sheepskin but is really nylon fleece. It's trimmed in the Norwegian style, and comes in black or ivory.

Boys who are boot-mad will buy those Wellingtons in black or brushed pigskin. Built-in swagger.

Information, Please.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Your recent issue's note on Princeton Borough and Township population figures reminds me were not the 1950 and 1960 Census figures released without clearly indicating whether the university not included in the Borough. Student enumeration was included in the Borough numbers. More importantly, what are the current population figures with specific note on whether university student numbers are included? Thank you.

B. E. BERGSEN, JR.
Crestview Circle

Editor's Note: In the 1950 census, college students were reported but not included in the Borough. All students were counted as residents of their home towns. In 1960, students were included in the municipality.

According to 1960 census figures, there were 11,899 residents of the Borough, including 3,718 for a 1960 student net of 8,174. The current Borough estimate is 12,710 but there are no precise student figures. Incidentally, although students are counted as Borough residents for census purposes, they are not allowed to vote here.

Dilley Report Favors Merger.

To the Editor of Town Topics: The Dilley Report on Joint Municipal Operations favors the merger of the Princeton Borough and Township school systems. Since release of the report last week, I have heard that many people are confused about the school merger by the report's position to municipal consolidation.

To repeat, the Dilley Report favors the school merger. It does so on the grounds that merging the Borough and Township school systems will provide better education without a significant increase in taxes for either municipality. In effect, the Report endorsed the Blue Book report of the two school boards.

Under the proposed school merger, properly called "regionalization" and not "consolidation", the operating costs of the schools would be divided between the districts in proportion to the number of students from each district. This is what makes the merger possible without increasing taxes.

Don't be confused by the headlines on the Dilley Report — read the Report itself. It supports the school merger.

SALLY M. SHY
for the Friends of Public Education in Princeton

The Answer Is Clear.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

It has been argued that the best of the old Princeton school system could be better preserved in the Borough by rejecting school merger. As a Borough resident since 1946, I believe that the situation is the direct opposite of this.

The traditional Princeton objective of high quality education for its children would be better served by a merger of the two school systems. For the Township this is important; for the Borough imperative.

A simple extrapolation forward of the present growth of the Borough ten years from now more nearly the business section of Princeton. The Township the main residential section. When this time comes in the long run this small system, on a per student basis, will be more expensive to operate.

I think that the answer is clear. In years to come, without school merger, the quality will be down and the cost will be up.

A vote for school regionalization will be a vote to preserve for the whole of Princeton the best traditions of the old school system.

ROBERT M. DICKE
321 Prospect Avenue

A Third Alternative.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

There has been in recent weeks considerable serious and intelligent discussion devoted to the question of whether Princeton Borough and Princeton Township should regionalize or consolidate as separate school districts.

In my estimation, little thought and little personal study has been given to a far more important question: are either of those alternatives the wisest course?

I refer to the third possibility, that of forming a regional high school. All of the compelling reasons for merger have to do with the High School. All of the objections to merger have to do with the grammar schools.

There has been some comment on the need for an improved Borough Junior High program but, with the new John Witherspoon School, the correction of this deficiency is well under way. Why not satisfy both the proponents of and objections to by regionalization of the High School only at this time?

The "Blue Book" dismisses this by saying that it was "briefly considered and discarded" while it devotes 91 pages to studying the other alternatives. When I have raised the question of regionalizing the High School only, —Continued on Page 36

I have been told that articles of consolidation programs could not be accomplished with a regional high school. This is simply not true. I have personal knowledge of many excellent school systems with regional High Schools whose educational programs are equal to Princeton's in every way.

When I raised the question of having a regional high school only at the Borough Board meeting on Sept. 7, I was told that New Jersey State law does not permit partial regionalization. This is not true. R.S. 18-8.3 provided the basis in law for such a regional High School as it has for the many regional high schools which now exist in New Jersey.

The only other deterrent I have heard to regionalization only the High School has been that a third School Board would be necessary. No one has explained the harm in a third Board, particularly since members of either Board are also members of the regional Board.

In conclusion, I feel that the education of our children is too important to trifle with. If we vote for total regionalization on October 7, we will create a system which can never be changed. On the other hand, if we were to regionalize only the High School at this time, we could, if it subsequently proved desirable, include the grammar schools in the regionalization as permitted by R.S. 18-8-19.

I sincerely hope that the citizens of the Borough and the Township will, on October 7, reject total regionalization so that we may then thoroughly consider the formation of a regional High School district proposal that I, for one, would strongly support.

A Time for Persuasion.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Regionalization of the Princeton schools is a sound idea. It offers the greater good for the greater number of people. I make sense, of course.

However, when the big day comes on October 7, this fine idea will probably be defeated by the lesser number of people, i.e., those people with children in the Borough Elementary School. It's unnecessary to add the reminder that the referendum must pass in the Borough, too, to go into effect.

It is too bad that no one realized how reluctant this group might be to give up their very special elementary school system. It is good; it is small; it is intimate; it is a model of integration; it is around the corner. It is even to be housed in the most modern design, and to top it all off, it is virtually costing them nothing!

But apparently no one considered them these elementary school parents with a lovely new school to lose and nothing but busting to gain. No one even tried to appease them by promising them a neighborhood school for K-5 (or 6) - or if promising were not possible, then at least recommending or proposing it for them.

What a pity that no one took into account this small group with its extraordinary (but of all proportion, really) powerful vote! They need to be reckoned with - and pretty quickly - if regionalization is to go through on October 7.

Setting the Record Straight.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Recent letters to the editor make it painfully obvious that there are still some members of the electorate who fail to understand the most fundamental terms of basic "Princetonese." It is also clear that as soon as these terms are defined and understood all Unfringedness to Princeton

Education and Teeth will immediately cease.

Consolidation: The process of merging two complete municipalities into one. This word is derived from the Latin "consolidare" meaning "not just the schools." Consolidation is bad. Regionalization: The process of merging one complete school system and one incomplete school system into one big system. This word is derived from the Latin "regionalis" meaning "just 1-2 schools." Prior to October 7, this word should never be confused with consolidation. Regionalization is big. Regionalization is good.

Consolidation: The process of merging all school systems in the Borough into one huge school system. Consolidation is bigger. Consolidation is better.

Megalopolization: The process of merging all municipalities of the Eastern urban complex into a colossal megalopolis. Megalopolization is best.

Fluoridation: The process of merging fluoride and water that this is not the case. Fluoridation is derived from the Latin "fluoridus" meaning "plot to sap our vital bodily fluids." It also saps attention.

regionalization language. Fluoridation is best for children, useless for adults, and a grave waste for dentists. If the above terms are understood letters should be no need for a referendum. We can immediately fluoridate the schools and regionalize the water supply.

Regionalization Best Answer. To the Editor of Town Topics: Several months ago I wrote a letter describing Mr. Graham Rotner's right to state his private and personal opinions regarding regionalization of the Princeton public school systems. It seemed to me that he should be accorded this privilege without the persecution to which he was being subjected, especially in view of the great services which he has rendered to Princeton Borough education. At that time, however, I did not state any opinion as to the merits of Regionalization.

Since that letter was printed I have discovered that many people assumed that I was against Regionalization. I want to make it very clear that this is not the case. Having served for six years on the Borough School Board and having read the Report by

 The Borough and Township Boards, the summary by the Friends of Public Education in Princeton, and the material sent out by the S.O.S. Committee, I am convinced that regionalization is the best possible answer to the problems of public education in both the Borough and the Township. I have great faith that the Administrators, together with the intelligent, dedicated Board members whom we shall elect, will be able to solve the problems confronting them much better as one school system than as two.

If the so-called "Princeton Plan" of racial integration cannot be used exactly as it is now, some other "Princeton Plan" will be evolved. If Borough parents should find it necessary to share their new, cherished, and long-awaited John Witherspoon School with some of their Township neighbors, on the other side of the ledger they will have an enriched program, especially at the junior high level, at no extra cost. Also, some Borough pupils will be able to attend Township schools nearer to their homes than is the Borough school.

It must be strongly emphasized that the advantages of a single High School for the whole Princeton community which Regionalization will guarantee are very great. We must prepare for the future not in terms of five years, but at least 30 years. Princeton in the past has never been financially able to operate the High school alone without the aid of sending districts. It is equally clear that in the future it will never be able to do so alone.

The question then simply resolves itself into what community will be the best and most logical partner in operating Princeton High School. To this question there can be but one answer. Princeton Township and Princeton Borough because of their geographical proximity, the similarity of their populations, and the numerous civic and educational activities in which their residents continually cooperate are the natural partners for effective and smooth joint operation of a High School.

If the Borough looks elsewhere for Sending Districts it will find the present problem speedily repeating itself. Areas beyond Princeton Township are growing very rapidly. Sending districts from such areas would soon be sending more students to Princeton High School than a would Princeton Borough itself and would be demanding joint control of the High School just as Princeton Township is doing now or would want to withdraw and build their own. Since there must eventually be joint control of Princeton High School, Princeton Township is the natural and suitable partner to share the control with Princeton Borough.

 To the Editor of Town Topics:
 Further to your Topics of the Town Item of September 9, I would suggest that Mr. Brown should (a) get the facts right, (b) accept gracefully that he was given the "B" grade view of his own obviously limited intelligence, and (c) not confuse "passivity" with discipline.
 If he should require a little addendum to his "Education Survey," I suggest that he interviews my 8-year-old English son who incidentally is familiar with fractions and long division and who was doing grade 3 arithmetic 2 years ago — and this is standard.

Courts Back Floridization.
 To the Editor of Town Topics:
 The following are documented and reported facts:
 1. Over 2,000 communities are artificially fluoridating their water supplies with at least 12 major cities injecting fluoride ions into their water supply, including Chicago, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Baltimore, San Francisco, Washington, Grand Rapids and Ann Arbor.

 2. Numerous scientific and governmental organizations have given unqualified approval to fluoridation of public water, such as the American Medical Association, the American Dental Association and the Public Health Service of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

 It is believed that the Princeton Water Company is aware of the foregoing facts and believes in the effectiveness, safety and practicability of fluoridation to prevent dental caries.

Moolish

Continued from Page 37 has been its uncertainty regarding the "legal issues." However, many aspects of the "legal issue" have been extensively litigated in the United States resulting in numerous decisions upholding the right to fluoridate water supplies.

The right to fluoridate has been upheld in 15 State Court cases with the State Supreme Court of at least California, Indiana, Louisiana, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Washington, and Wisconsin ruling favorably for fluoridation of the "legal issues." Four separate attempts to have the Supreme Court of the United States reverse these decisions (favorable to fluoridation) have all met with failure.

These cases raised and decided diverse "legal issues" regarding the addition of fluoride ions to public water supplies, and concluded that:

1. It is not illegal nor is it an improper exercise of governmental power.

2. It is not an infringement of individual constitutional rights.

3. It is not an invasion of the right of freedom of religion.

4. It is not an illegal practice of medicine.

5. It is not a violation of state or federal health laws. It is now a settled principle of law that a community has the inherent right to have its water supply fluoridated and it respectfully urges the Princeton Water Company to reconsider their postponement decision and return to their original decision to fluoridate our water.

BERNARD GERB

290 Snowden Lane

Room for Further Study.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

So often decisions made and acted upon in haste are found later to be in error. Recently the New York Times as well as the Sunday Times Adver-user (Trenton) carried articles with headlines reading FDA WARNS VITAMIN D EXCESS MAY CAUSE RETARDATION. George P. Larrick, Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration has invited interested persons, especially scientists, to offer pertinent information on this subject.

The history of Vitamin D as an additive in our food spans a 40 year period. Has fluoridation of municipal water supplies been studied for forty years? Would it be asking too much of our modern men of science to come up with a solution to this problem that would directly aid our children and yet safeguard the health of the aged and the sick?

Dr. Ludwig Gross, an internationally recognized expert on cancer viruses has stated, "The excretion of fluoride through the kidneys has not been adequately studied, and middle-aged and older people, particularly those who have metabolic disturbances, chronic kidney diseases, etc., may suffer from long and continuous ingestion of this cumulative and toxic compound. If harmful effects occur, they may develop slowly and probably be first observed in older people."

As a layman, I feel that there is room for further study before drastic action is taken.

Why Plan to Vote For Merger Against Merger

By Esther H. Roberts

By Stuart Carothers

I plan to vote "Yes" for school merger because I am convinced that this is the only acceptable solution to our school problem. My interest in the Borough schools is of long duration. I have served as president of the Borough Elementary P.T.A. and as a member of the Borough Board of Education. Our Borough schools mean a great deal to me.

The problem of having two school systems in Princeton has long worried those in the community who are interested in public education. Over the years, various solutions have been proposed. When school consolidation was discussed in the '40's, the laws governing it at that time made it unacceptable. Municipal consolidation was voted down in the '50's. The issue is before us that if now proposed, it would be voted down again in the '60's.

Regionalization of the high school and its separate districts has also been advocated. This would mean three boards of education: Borough Township and a regionalized high school board. Education in this community has been complicated by having two boards. Does anyone really want THREE?

Recently a new law was passed making it possible for us to have a regionalization system, K through 12, with one board of education. In regionalization, the expenses of running a school are allocated on a per-pupil basis. Each district pays for the number of pupils it must educate. The township has more students and will pay in proportion. It will also share in the election of board members and therefore in the planning of the high school. The children will all be prepared for the high school under the same administration in a larger, better sectionalized junior high school.

Here, then is the solution for Princeton. Here is the way to have one high school for ALL Princeton students.

The Dilley report makes it plain that municipal consolidation is out for the present. In reading this, some people are confused and think that school merger is lost. They have been hearing school "merger" referred to as "consolidation." It is not "consolidation" but "regionalization" that is to be voted on.

The findings of the Dilley Committee make it more imperative that we vote for regionalization now. We cannot wait until the tax rates become close. We must have the high school now before it is too late.

Princeton High School is known far and wide. It has been rated as one of the best preparatory schools in the country. It is a comprehensive high school with an excellent business education department and is inaugurating a new vocational training program.

We must save the high school with its high academic standards made possible by its student body of Borough and Township residents. The outstanding districts, overextending will cease.

When we built the additional 10 years ago, we envisioned a high school, by this time, of Borough and Township students and very few others. To have two high schools in Princeton is unthinkable. Our children belong together. We are ONE community.

Regionalization, consolidation, merger, amalgamation, jointure, union, combination! Whatever you call it, if Borough voters vote "Yes" on October 7, they vote to pool (or consolidate) all the assets of the two school systems. They vote to assume a new burden which will amount to several million dollars, because they are voting to consolidate all outstanding debts and all future debts of the two school districts. They do this despite the fact that the Borough brings to the new combination far greater physical assets, far less outstanding debt, and vastly less potential debt than the township does.

Why, then, are we so reluctant to realize this now, he will realize it in coming years, when the bill comes in and must be paid. Thus viewed, the merger is indeed no "consolidation" but instead is a liquidation — of the assets of a merged system, and ordered to meet the needs of its community.

Proponents of this "merger" would have us believe that by using the mysterious term "regionalization," we manage in some magical fashion to eliminate the basic inequity inherent in combining the two districts. This may be true but unfortunately it is just not so.

As far as the assets and debts of the combined districts are concerned, it makes no difference whether you call it "regionalization," "consolidation" or "merger." Day to day costs are one matter. Real estate and debts are another.

The operating costs in this new district would be handled on a per pupil basis, it is true. However, in dealing with assets and debts of the two former districts, regionalization provides only that after Borough taxpayers assume the financial obligations of the Township school system, present and future, the Borough then gets to pay off the debt on a basis of comparative ratios, or on a basis of 60%-40%.

Then as the Township grows and builds new schools and modernizes their present schools, libraries, gymnasiums, special studies rooms! the Borough may get to pay his off on an even better basis, say 65% - 35%. Aren't we the lucky ones?

The issue facing us on October 7 is far too important to be decided on the basis of costs and taxes alone. Maybe it would be better to disregard the financial aspects altogether, but if we are to talk costs, let's be intelligent about it, and let's be honest about it. Let's acknowledge that in regionalization, consolidation, merger or union, from the financial point of view the Borough gets the short end of the stick, a very short end indeed.

What that disturbs me most of all as a parent, is not that the proposed merger will cause my taxes to rise. As

ART In Princeton

MANY CLASSES OFFERED

By Art Association. The Princeton Art Association, beginning its first session in new quarters at 14 Nassau Street, is offering a variety of classes in different painting media during the fall term.

Margaret K. Johnson, well-known painter and sculptress who had an exhibit at Gallery 100 during the summer, will teach a course in basic design and theory on Tuesday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30, beginning October 5. She is presently teaching at the Museum of Modern Art in New York and the Princeton Adult School, and in the past has taught at Pratt Institute, Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, and at Texas State College for Women.

A class in the theories and techniques of drawing will be taught Mondays from 1 to 3 p.m., starting October 3, by William Monaghan, who has been teaching in this area for the past ten years. Mr. Monaghan has exhibited in San Antonio, Dallas, Tex., New York City and Trenton, and some of his work is displayed in the Incomparable Art Gallery in Union.

Robert E. Mueller will give a course in creative painting, offering individual instruction for beginners or advanced students, dealing with the still life, the figure, and imaginative, realistic, or abstract compositions. The course, beginning October 7, meets Thursdays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

Mr. Mueller, who has studied art and philosophy at New York University and the Brooklyn Museum Art School, has exhibited his woodcuts both in this country and Europe, and his prints are included in the Museum of Modern Art collection. He has had one-man shows of oils in New York City, was represented at an exhibition at the New Jersey pavilion at the World's Fair, and is currently active in the Spectrum Gallery in New York City. There will also be a morning and evening class in drawing and sketching for those who prefer to work without an instructor. The morning class will meet Wednesdays from 9:30 to 11:30 beginning October 3, and the evening class will be held from 7:30 to 9:30 on Tuesdays, starting the day earlier. Single attendance is only permissible for these classes.

All classes will be held at 14 Nassau Street, with easels and stools provided, but many materials should not be charged. Those who wish further information or registration blanks should contact Mrs. Simon Mareson, 26 Marion St., at 921-9253.

PAINTINGS ARE FEATURED in the new Hope Gallery. Paintings by two Princeton area residents, Mrs. Elaine Heinemann, 52 Marion St., and Vera McKinley, 5 Merritt Lane, Rocky Hill, are featured in a new art gallery, "The Owl's Nest," New Hope St. The gallery, owned by Mrs. McKinley, is located on Mechanic Street.

Most of Mrs. Heinemann's paintings are done in the acrylic medium. Subject matter ranges from still life to landscape and portraiture, with most of the pictures in bright colors. In a semi-abstract style.

A graduate of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., Mrs. Heinemann has done graduate work in social work at the University of Pennsylvania. She has taken art courses at the Stella Ekling Tryer School of Fine Arts, Temple University, Weaver College and Swarthmore College. She has exhibited at the Montclair Annual Show in 1963 and 1964 and the 1964 Hunterdon County Annual Show, as well as in

Mrs. McKinley's selection include a variety of water colors, some done in the pure transparent traditional manner and others in a semi-abstract style, combined with other media. Featured subject matter is her painting centered around the owl, a bird she became identified with in her work in Chicago.

Against Merger

In the proposed merger have remained beneath the surface. We have been unable to get from the Blue Book a real picture of the actual financial aspects of merger. What we are then do we have that are getting the real picture regarding education, integration, and pupil allocation?

It appears that a majority of the two Boards of Education were committed to merger before the Blue Book was even issued. How objective then can their conclusions be? How many details would the Boards like to disclose, and how many would they prefer left unexplained? If the answers are indeed so obvious and so simple, why have we a popular education plan, one concrete data on regionalization, just the high school, no estimate of growth of Township growth and its effect on the schools and its taxes?

"Better education at lower cost" makes a dandy slogan. Does it really provide answers to the questions that trouble us as parents, citizens, taxpayers?

I plan to vote no, on October 7!

For Merger

We have excellent teachers in Nassau Street and Witherspoon Schools. They will still be excellent teachers whether they teach in the John Witherspoon School or one of the Township Schools.

What makes a good school? The teachers' administration and the Board of Education working with that administration.

The new regionalized board will be made up of Princeton Borough and Township residents interested in the education of children.

When there are no longer two systems, no transition, why board members should be concerned with Borough or Township residents such. First the Borough will have a majority vote; then, after 1970, the Township will have a majority vote. The Boards may have divisions in thought, but why should we expect these two people to divide along Borough and Township lines? Does this happen in the United Community Fund? In the YMCA or YWCA? Do our church schools care where their children reside?

I would like to see the day when we elect from each municipality representatives to the new regionalized board of education who are interested in the education of all Princeton children. I firmly believe this can be done.

EXERCISE *

All health authorities today agree that exercise is essential to physical well-being.

In ancient times, however, exercise suggested more than our present-day meaning of leisure-time recreation. The term comes from the Latin in ex, or "out," plus arere, to "confine," and literally signified "to let out of confinement." Thus it was slaves and animals who were "exercised," for utilitarian purposes.

As the word became more suggestive of pleasant activities, it was applied to the recreation of the upper classes. People no longer only exercised other persons or animals, but began to take "exercise" themselves.

KEY MAN: Senior Ron Landeck is sufficiently versatile so that he's created quite a puzzle for the Princeton coaching staff. Can he be spared from the defensive backfield to become the Tigers' 11 tailback? The answer will come by a week from Saturday, when Orange and Black opens against Rutgers.

SPORTS In Princeton

TIGERS TAKE SHAPE

But Some Juggling Still Due. Ten days before its opener with Rutgers on September 25, Princeton's football team is beginning to fit into the pattern its fans will see when the Scarlet comes to town for the 56th meeting between the traditional rivals.

The pre-season drills at Blairtown, which will end this Friday, have solved some of the problems — notably the question of who will handle the vital quarterback assignment. Other question marks, understandably, remain unanswered. The biggest is a nagging doubt in the coaching staff's mind as to whether the 1965 Tigers have the depth to play two platoons in the full season of the meeting.

Brightest development of the Blairtown workouts has been the progress of Bob Bedell, the lone letterman working to become Roy Pizzarello's successor at quarterback. Little used in his first two seasons, he had remained largely unused until the outset of his senior year.

Now, Dick Colman and backfield coach Jake McCandless are satisfied that he can handle the job — particularly insofar as his blocking goes. A shade under 200 pounds, he has been using his solid frame to considerable effectiveness, and Colman declared himself "very impressed" with his progress. The task of operating the intricate single wing offense will, of course, be solved only with game experience.

Tigers Appear Thin. As had been anticipated, the losses created by the graduation of for this reason that there has been brutalization over, possibly weakening the defense by taking Landeck out of it to play tailback.

Somewhat the same situation exists where Clint Johnson, a solid 185-lb. linebacker is converted. Academically ineligible last fall, he is being counted on to fill the spot shared by Cosmo Iacovazzi when he was on defense and Ron Grimes when the latter replaced Casmo.

Johnson is needed on offense, but he is a good fullback, too. If Bert Kerstetter and Grossman (now shifted to offense, but badly slowed by muscle pulls so far) cannot handle the fullback assignment, the coaches will be faced with another dilemma: can Johnson, like Landeck, be pulled out of the defensive secondary to provide punch as a ball carrier?

There is good reason for the coaching staff to place its major share of faith in a potent defense. On its way to a 9-and-0 mark last fall, Princeton won by such scores as 10-7 (Rutgers), 9-0 (Colgate), 14-0

(Brown), 16-0 (Harvard) and 17-12 (Curetil). When four consecutive shutouts were recorded, it was necessary to go back three decades in the record book to find when the Tigers had last batched four shutouts in as many weeks.

The ends will be Walt Ko-samba, the only sophomore to earn a starting position last year, and Larry Stupak, a junior who has made good progress at Blairtown. Captain Paul Savidge, who plays tackle on defense, will be paired with Blair Lee, a junior who has added 20 pounds to his frame this summer and now matches Savidge at 215.

At guards, Stas Maliszewski, 220 pounds of extreme acidity, will be paired with one of two very large but very inexperienced players. The pick was sophomore Leo Hitchner, 225-lb sophomore who figured in a fit into the picture quickly but who landed in the infirmary last week with a persistent temperature. Taking his place is the biggest man on the squad, 240-lb John Seifert, whose development last year was at the junior varsity level. Johnson is the pick at one of the linchpin positions, while junior Hayward Gipson, one of the fastest men on the squad, will take over at left corner back for the graduated Don Roth. Chuck Merline, a standout on defense last fall, is the right corner back, while

George Markeson
He needs company

Doug James and Marty Kiehlberger, both juniors, found out the unit. It will be good—possibly second to none in the league—with the weakness developing on the reserve platoon, where inexperience looms so large.

The Offense. Lawson Cashdollar, a talented receiver and good blocker with his 6-3, 210-lb. build, is a fixture at one end, while Pete Zielstoft currently has the nod in a four-way battle for the assignment on the shortside of the line. Bill Potter, a converted tailback, might make it here.

The tackles are veterans, Dick Reimis and Jim Stoops, 225 and 215 respectively. Senior Dick Kobera, only 185, and junior Jim Kokoskie, 190, are the probable starting guards, with Kokoskie currently holding a slight edge over Lynn Brewbaker, who is slowed by a back operation during the summer.

Kit Mill, 195-lb senior left-terminator, has the inside track at center. This is a light line as college football goes these days and plans are to send in Savidge and Maliszewski to beef it up when the Tigers get inside the opponents' ten-yard line.

Backfield Nearly Set. Two of the jobs in the backfield are definite. Junior John Bowers has shown the form expected of him at wingback after brief but impressive appearances as a sophomore, and Biodel, as noted above, has won the quarterback job.

Senior Bert Kerstetter will get first crack at filling Isaacson's shoes, and Landeck is the tailback choice if not needed on defense. He sets up his blocks better than any runner on the team.

If Landeck has to slay on defense, Martin will start at tailback. Colman would like to have Landeck, Martin and Weber all available for the tailback spot, because injuries often crop up there and Landeck is prone to muscle pulls. If the defense is good enough to operate without Landeck, and the Tigers can go with this kind of depth at tailback, the season should develop satisfactorily.

PHS FOOTBALL — II

(This is the second of three articles on Princeton High School's prospects for 1965)

Too Many Weak Links? The pre-season report on the Princeton High line this year is that it will resemble a chain with alternating weak and strong links. According to PHS coach Dick Wood, the Little Tiger forward wall figures to be strongest at the tackle and center slots and weakest on both flanks and at the two guard positions.

Fortunately, Wood has a returning veteran to compensate for the loss of 1964's outstanding lineman, tackle and co-captain Andy Kulley. Carl DeCavalente, a 245-lb behemoth, called "The Whale" by his teammates, will take the sting out of Kulley's departure.

Elsewhere, there is considerable shoring up to be done. It would be a fair statement to say that the offensive and defensive lines last fall were memorable more for their lack of solid performance than for anything else. It follows that Wood and his staff will have to effect a series of achievements if PHS—in the face of a rugged schedule—is going to better last year's 3-5-1 log. Below are the players who will most directly be involved.

Vince Boccanfuso
He needs weight

Ends. Despite the fact that three of eight returning linemen are ends, Wood says the team will be weaker here than last year. The chief problem is lack of size, not experience. Most experienced is Vince Boccanfuso, who, as the school's top sprinter on the track team, is also by far the fastest player on the squad. Offsetting these attributes are Vince's size—197, 5-8—and a

Night-time work for day-time service

Construction of a unique hydro-electric generating station at Yards Creek near the Delaware River is nearing completion. Designed to supply you with power during "peak" daytime periods, water is pumped up the mountain at night, and returned during the day to produce electric energy. This $28 million project, carried out in cooperation with Jersey Central Power & Light Company, is another way that Public Service makes certain that you will have an adequate and dependable supply of electric power at all times.

Question of the Week

Question: How many games do you think the Princeton University football team will win this year?

Where asked: Around campus.

Fred Hartmann, 15 Murray Place, University senior: They will probably lose two. I think Harvard and probably Dartmouth will knock them off. I think a lot of it will depend on how well Landeck does and whether they can come up with a replacement at fullback. Whether Kerstetter or Ingram can fill Iacavazzi's shoes.

Lawrence Lyons, Trenton, nursingman for Princeton University: I don't follow it too closely, but I don't think they'll do as well as last year. They lost quite a few of their good players. My guess would be they'll win five or six.

William Horn, Lawrence Township, campus police: To be honest about it, I hope they win them all. I'm rooting for them to win them all. Let's put it that way. If everything comes along, I think they have a good chance too. The team has been plagued with minor injuries at Blairstown, but everything is liable to patch up by game time.

Edward Rocco, Lawrenceville, pipefitter: I think they'll win seven. Dartmouth and Rutgers will give them a good game. Rutgers is strong. It was a matter of only a few points last year and Rutgers didn't lose many men. Dartmouth is going to be strong, too. They'll probably lose these two but otherwise I think they'll take the rest. Princeton has a good team. I like Maliszewski. He's one of the best in the business. In fact, I think he's underrated. He's got material already. I think Savidge is a good captain and a good field general. He must know what he's doing or else he wouldn't have been elected captain.

Edward Johnson, Hopewell, carpenter: I think they will lose one—to Pennsylvania—and win the rest. Penn has a new coach and that usually means a rejuvenated team. Princeton had a good year last year and I don't think they lost that many good players that they won't have another good year.

Stan Stratt, Philadelphia, representative for Gordon Davis Line Supply, student service laundry: This is just a guess, but I think if they win half, they'll be doing good. They lost a lot of key men and I have no way of knowing what they have this year. With Iacavazzi gone, it's a lot like the Cleveland Browns without Jimmy Brown. Figuring they'll have 50 to 60 percent sophomores and juniors, you know when you'll know? After the first game. They're sure to win one game: Penn I'd say Dartmouth and Harvard will be their roughest.

Bob Moore, Province Line Road, carpenter: They'll be five and four, I'll say. Rutgers will beat 'em, Harvard will beat 'em, Cornell's pretty good, they should take 'em—that's three right there. Dartmouth? I don't think Dartmouth is going to beat Princeton; I don't think they have too much. Princeton has lost too much. They've got the line but they're hurtin' in the backfield. In fact, they've had to replace everybody and I heard they had to go way back for a replacement at tailback.

Henry Jones, Kingston, carpenter: I think they'll lose five: Rutgers, Cornell, Harvard, Yale and Colgate will whomp them, too. They've lost their offense but they should be real good on defense with Savidge and Maliszewski.

Dave Pinchotti, Brown Hall, member of University freshman football team: All of them. I think we have a good fullback—I think Kerstetter is quick enough to take Iacavazzi's place—two good guards in Maliszewski and Savidge, and a pretty good end in Cashdollar. Seems like we will have good strength with the sophomores coming up. I think the only problem is finding a good quarterback to keep the team moving.

Dick "Tiny" Morgan, Foulke Hall, University senior: 8-1. I think they'll lose to Harvard by one touchdown—no more! Despite the loss of the whole backfield, Kerstetter and Landeck are very formidable players. Kerstetter is faster than Iacavazzi; certainly he has more moves as a fullback and with quite a bit of power. And, of course, our line. Nobody is going to score on it very much. We will have a very, very strong defense. With Cashdollar at one end we should have a good passing attack. I think we will be able to compensate for whatever we lost last year. We'll be just as strong.

I'd Scavella, 10 Quarry Street, campus mail room: They'll win at least half without question. Rutgers, I feel, is going to be their toughest game. They've got pretty much the same players back and it was only a few points which separated them last year. In fact, I think Rutgers is one of the most underrated teams there is. They'll give Princeton a real tussle. I think the team will perform much like it did last year. They lost a few key men but I think they have some good replacements. So I'm looking at it much like Colman who feels that he has a pretty good squad.

Fred Pollex, Edison, truck driver: I think they'll win them all because of what they did last year. When a Iacavazzi goes, somebody else always comes up. There's always another boy waiting. Mind you, I'm not taking anything away from Iacavazzi but he had an understudy last year. I think Princeton has enough material to win them all. You watch, a good coach—what else do you need?

Tom Devlin, Hopewell, carpenter: I think they'll lose to Dartmouth for one and I'll take Harvard for the other. I feel that's all they'll lose—these two—and I'm hoping they don't lose those. I say these three will be the big powers this year. Of course, they lost Iacavazzi, but I think he can be replaced. There's always somebody to fill somebody else's shoes.

sight problem which curtails his pass-catching effectiveness. "But even considering his size," says Wood, "Vince blocks well."

Like Boccanfuso, the 5-10, 155-lb statistics of letterman Wilbur Hines tend to blunt his effectiveness as an end, although Wood reports that Hines, like Boccanfuso again, is "fast and elusive." "A lot of potential, a lot of possibility" is the way Wood describes Bart Bennett, the third returning letterman.

Bigger than the two above at 6-2, 177-lbs., Bennett saw action mostly on defense. He does not lack speed, though, having set a new school record this spring in the low hurdles. In addition, Wood mentioned that Bennett had a lot of desire and was "very coachable."

Behind these three are Mark Dannenhauer and Tom Wood, a junior. Dannenhauer has more beef than Boccanfuso and Hines and is a good blocker, but Wood added that he needs to work on his pass receiving. "He should do a good job for us, though," said Wood.

Tom Wood is the second son of Coach Wood to be a member of the present squad. At 6-4 he is also the tallest. Wood was used with increasing frequency in the final games last year and it is difficult to believe that if his development continues, this 196-pounder is not going to see action early in the season.

Tackles. "You start with Arcaro and DeCavalcante at tackle," said Wood. And he might have added that—barring injuries—one could end right there. Arcaro is pure gold. A hardnosed, 6-0, 200-lb. running tackle par excellence, he is also used as a pile driving fullback to pick up short yardage. He is co-captain of the team.

Anyone for Bear?

As if to prove that the Wild West has nothing New Jersey can't match, the State's Fish and Game Division announced this week that the deer AND BEAR hunting season will begin in these parts on October 2.

The weapon? A bow and arrow, pardner, and leave your rifle at home.

The special season lasts until November 4, and last year, the archers observed the occasion by bagging 1,116 deer.

The State doesn't say how many "hars" were converted into trophies—possibly because it wouldn't stand up to the Rocky Mountain count. But the bow-and-arrow deer AND BEAR season will open as advertised, if you want to try for a new rug.

"He's real good," said Wood. "He's strong, he runs straight ahead and hard. He has good form in blocking as a fullback which is almost the same as a running tackle."

The only thing which might sideline the huge DeCavalcante from the outside tackle position is a knee injury which hampered his lateral movement last fall. Wood reported that he had the knee operated on and "it should make a difference."

A third veteran at tackle is Mike Knorr who won his letter last year mainly for his defensive play. Wood disclosed that Knorr has engaged in a lot of conditioning exercises throughout the summer in order to be in top shape.

Because he was behind Arcaro, Alan Dey didn't have too much opportunity to play but Wood indicated he will this year "because he is too good not to." Dey moves well and can play both the guard and tackle positions. Somewhat small for a tackle, he is described by Wood as "quiet but tough."

Waiting in the wings are a pair of juniors, John McKeever, a younger brother of Jim McKeever, a standout tackle for PHS two years ago, and Mike Pomlanoski, 6-0, 180 lbs. Senior John Blazakis, big, strong, a shot putter on the track team, will be used more on defense.

Guards. With only one returning veteran, Wood admitted the position "was not as good as the tackle situation." The lone letterman is George Markuson.

Two seniors who played mainly defense last year will be given a shot at it: David Nichols and Gordon Campbell. Campbell, said Wood, is tremendously strong. Wood added that the 5-8, 190-lb. Campbell reportedly did 1000 situps in school to win a bet.

Another senior candidate is Bob Rodgers who is a little overweight at 230 to be effective. John Rabens, track manager, told Wood he wanted to try out for football and if he sticks, it will be as a guard.

Junior possibilities are Donald Pierre and Brandon Stechini. The latter represents the dark horse of the team. Like the others he was used primarily on defense last year but Wood reported he should play a lot of ball this year—if he can stay in line. "He is a real rough boy," he said.

Center. If co-captain Rich Stewart plays center, Wood has no problems here. However, there is a good chance Stewart will not play the position. "I need him more on defense and just how much offensive center he'll play I don't know," said Wood.

Stewart is an outstanding linebacker. If Wood finds he can't play both ways, he can turn to two seniors or two juniors. Of Rill Reed, Wood said, "He has worked hard all year, has a lot of desire and is bound to improve. Glenn Christiansen, the second senior, has grown in size and strength and may be ready.

Juniors are Craig Donaldson who, according to Wood, has lost a lot of fat, and Robert White. White is a fine defensive player and intelligent. "I don't have to say anything twice to him," said Wood. "He wants to play."

Summing up. In an overall view, Wood said that he hoped the offensive line would be as good as last year's and "maybe a little better in passing situations. The defense wasn't as good last fall as it had been in previous years," he added.

"What we've got to work on is stopping the long runs." As an example, Wood cited the Thomas Jefferson game last

Phonetown, N.J.

THE THIRD LARGEST CITY IN THE STATE.

It's an imaginary town populated by Bell System men and women who live in New Jersey. And it's a big town. If the size of Phonetown surprises you, so perhaps will some of the facts about the people who bring you the world's best telephone service.

200,000 people. Over 60,600 employees and their families. (There are more than 425 Smiths, 150 Joneses, and 2 Zygals.) They live up the street or around the corner. And the majority of the Phonetown breadwinners are building careers with the phone company.

Opportunity. Expanding Phonetown offers all sorts of opportunities to today's youth. Each year 6,800 people are hired in New Jersey to join in the work of bringing you the world's best phone service.

New worlds. Keeping ahead in communications is a story of constant research and development. This creates or fosters the development of whole new industries. The transistor is a classic example; it was developed by Phonetown people at Bell Laboratories in New Jersey. Another benefit of Bell research: the continuing search for new ways to help hold down costs of service.

They're all spending—and saving—in New Jersey. Most of Phonetown's $475 million payroll goes right into the economy of our state—to buy everything from groceries to appliances to bubblegum.

4,000 quarts of ice cream. In their workaday activities, telephone men and women consume huge quantities of locally supplied products and services. The ice cream? One month's supply bought for New Jersey Bell cafeterias. Another interesting figure: 12,500 gallons of gas are used each workday in company cars and trucks.

Jobs for others. Service is expanding. New, advanced systems are replacing older techniques. The result? A vigorous telephone company providing jobs and orders in quantity to businesses throughout the state. For instance, each year Western Electric alone spends over $100 million for products and services provided by New Jersey companies.

On the job and off—the significance of Phonetown is people. People and Service.

MAPPING THE DEFENSE: One of the tasks facing Princeton High coach Dick Wood (right) and defensive coach Jerry Greeninger is the bolstering of a defense which last year allowed 142 points while the Little Tigers were scoring only 88 of their own.

year which Jefferson won, 27-0. "Actually, we didn't do too bad in that game," Wood recalled. "I know the score looks bad but most of their scores came on long runs. Statistically, it was a lot closer than you'd expect."

Next Week: '85 Forecast.

FALL SAILING BEGINS
Dexter Miller won, 27-0. Despite gusty winds and rain, the fall series of races staged each Sunday on the lake by the Carnegie Sailing Club began this week.

In the Penguin class, with Peter Lawson second and Walter Foster Jr. third, Jerry Lawson, with his wife, Nancy, as crew was first among the 14-foot sloops. John Hempflatt was runner-up.

COUNTY COURSE POPULAR
More than 7,000 Play In the two months since Mercer County acquired the rights to the Princeton County Club in West Windsor Township, 7,757 players have toured the 18-hole golf course. The operation declared itself insolvent earlier this year and the county took over the course for the balance of 1965, with an option to purchase next year.

Freelholder Richard J. Coffee, President of the County Park Commission, reported that receipts for 40-days amounted to some $17,000. Playing conditions have been steadily improved since the course became public.

Meanwhile, the county's first course, Mountain View in West Trenton continues to break records. Revenues through August totalled $42,000, up $8,000 over the same period last summer. A total of 5499 ID cards have been issued.

Person To Person

A friend told about an article on dreaming which said it is a universal experience, that all people dream, though some people never remember their dreams. They say that the unconscious mind of a modern man could be superficially compared to the cautious mind of a cavewoman when simple drawings used as symbols told a whole story. Events in a dream are usually in gray, seldom in color, and there is little talking. . . we get the message if we remember it from the actions rather than from words. Psychologists tell us that the shallower the sleep the greater the number of dreams, and most take place after 4 a.m., when sleep is lightest. The next asks whether you've ever seen a dream walking, but we ask you ever seen a dream talking? Beautifully reconditioned cars at bargain prices are here for you right now! After the first evening's competition, Decker's Dairy was in the lead with six points. Bunched at four points each were Cliff Electric, Throver Pharmacy, Elks and Groves Lumber.

Doug Watson's 220 game and Ken Luck's 601 series on games of 211, 189, and 201, were the highlights of the opening night of play Thursday in the Tri-County Firemans League. Other top single games were Harry Kahny's 219, Gil Ireland's 204, Don Ditt's 201, and a pair of 200s by Fred Lavale and Stan Tramm. Les Luck had a 591 series, his best effort being a 215 game.

Dutch Neck grabbed the lead with six points. Close behind with four points were H&L H. KFD, Rocky Hill, Belle Mead, and H & L. No fewer than 14 200- or better.

Pool Cover Keeps Water Usable Year After Year

Even a drought, such as the one experienced this year, causes no hardships for the swimming pool owner who has equipped his pool with a cover that keeps his water usable year after year.

In fact, pool owners who have been using a Sylvan pool cover for as many as five years report that they are still using the same water. You can, too, with no danger whatsoever to health.

You'll save money, too, because filling a pool each spring costs money — money that you could be saving, because emptying a swimming pool in the winter is unnecessary with a Sylvan pool cover.

Not to mention the convenience. No more leaves, insects, and dirt falling in to your pool, particularly at this time of year when this problem is most prevalent. No more clogged filters and drains.

And don't forget the safety factor. With a covered pool you enjoy absolute peace of mind, even when you are away from home.

Now is the time to buy your Sylvan pool cover, not only because you need it most right now, but also because you'll have 10% off if you buy it from Sylvan Pools before October 1st.

A Sylvan pool cover is lightweight for easy handling, won't react to pool chemicals, won't fade, won't rot. It's the nicest, and the safest thing you can put over your pool.

For more information, send for this special sale brochure. Call Sylvan Pools at 461-0166 or visit our local showroom at the Princeton Shopping Center, Princeton.

PALMER SQUARE

If the population explosion is giving you a fenced in feeling, if you would enjoy pheasant strutting across your back yard, deer nibbling your apple trees, and a beautiful view which will be preserved from developers by Green Acres, we would love to show you our home. In addition to a living room which is 27' by 18', we have a dining room, kitchen, cedar-paneled study with lavatory which is large enough to triple as a playroom and guest room, two large bedrooms and bath on the first floor. Upstairs there is one bedroom, and enough space for at least two more. The cellar is enormous, with an extra-high ceiling. The setting is five lovely acres — the likes of which we doubt you could find in this area even without a house for the price of $37,500. Twelve minutes to Palmer Square. Call 201-359-3750. 9-16-65
